AROUND the TOWNSHIP

By Henry Alderman

Bill Helm has a couple of experts in helping him with his gift campaign. After two days association with them they reported the following conversame a nickle to call a friend." tion with Bill:

"Bill: One of you blokes give Other man: "Here's a dime. Call all your friends".

We do not believe this story.

Gladfred Viery has been hiding his light under a bushel. Glendfred, whom wost folks know as a Niles grocer, has professional skill as a woodworker.

His stuff is good enough so that people are willing to pay good prices for it b'gosh.

There is no charge for this ad, Gladfred.

One of the Rose family drove into town from the ranch the other day in one of Old Man Rose's model Ts. The driver stopped in front of Gladys's garage and honked for that young lady. Niles firemen came running from every direction. The model T has the same kind of horn that that the fire truck carries.

Last week when the sudden heavy shower filled the Niles underpass in about 10 minutes, Wally Ebright and Henry Vervais rushed to the place and turned red lights on it. Two women paid no attention, however, and drove past to stall in the muddy water.

"You could have heard 'em yell for a quarter of a mile", commented one of the officers.

Joe Silveira, known better as Joe California is one of the bright spots in Irvington. Whenever we meet Joe, we never fail to be impressed by his neighborly spirit, his willingness to offer a helping hand. The newspaper business is notorious as one in which brickbats are more numerous than roses. The average newspaper man goes about his business all ready to beat his many critics to the punch. We are no exception to this rule: but when we meet Joe, we always relax.

That's the effect he has on everyone.

The Beet Hill Planter

Vincent Dias tells us that the Holly Sugar Company is making field plantings on their Pleasanton ranches with a new drilling machine. This new device plants the seed a few at a time, then skips and plants a few more. It operates on a wire or chain. This automatically spaces the plantings and lines them up somewhat as does the corn planter used in the corn belt. This permits cultivation in two directions as soon as the plants are up.

It also, of course, cuts down on the amount of seed used and greatly lessens the hand hoeing and thinning labor. The Company will check yields secured from acres grown from this planting with those secured by regular drilling. If yields are equal or better we no doubt will see this machine come into general use.

A Great Californian

We regret a Regional meeting of our fellow workers prevented our attendance last Saturday at the dedication services in honor of George Christian Roeding. It was never our privilege to know him personally, but from that time in our teens when first we went to live near Fresno, we felt the power and inspirational influence of his life. The enthusiastic vision, tire-

WORD ON SUPERVISOR JOB SLOW TO COME

NILES—Absence of word from Sacramento regarding Governor Frank Merriam's appointment to fill a vacancy in the supervisorial office of the First District of Alameda County has kept conversation concentrated on this topic this week. Candidates state they have had no intimation fro mthe governor as to what he intends doing but indicate they expect news this week.

Those who seem to be "tops" according to popular opinion and leakings of political gossip have simmered down to Frank Dusterberry of Centerville George Hellwig of Alvarado and M. G. Callaghan of Livermore. However, to date, it's anybody's job and nobody knows how it will go.

FIRST Repair the 250 Unsafe Bridges

Shall we spend the gas tax money to subsidize a few big toll bridges . . . all in good condition . . . when hundreds of smaller bridges are posted "UNSAFE" because funds are inadequate to repair or rebuild them?

Not if we heed a sober warning published by Assistant State Highway Engineer George T. McCoy, in the Official Journal of the Department of Public Works for March, 1937, which says:

"There are 3,280 bridges in the State road system and of these about 250 are posted as unsafe for smaller loads than those allowed by the California Motor Vehicle Act." These 250, he cautions, "should be replaced immediately" and "1,000 more should be replaced in the near future."

"Old, weak and otherwise unsatisfactory bridges are being replaced and repaired as rapidly as money is available BUT FUNDS ARE INSUFFICIENT TO ADEQUATELY TAKE CARE OF THE SITUATION," says Mr. McCoy. He estimates that $7,000,000 is needed immediately and $25,000,000 more will be needed in the next ten or twelve years.

Yet while these conditions exist, plans are being pressed to spend millions of dollars to take over the big toll bridges and maintain them from gasoline tax funds . . . instead of from tolls paid by the users.

We who own the Carquinez and Antioch Bridges oppose their acquisition. We ask the State to uphold its ratification of our contract to operate them till 1948, WHEN THESE BRIDGES WILL BECOME PUBLIC PROPERTY, ABSOLUTELY FREE.

Write your representatives at Sacramento to oppose further inroads on the gasoline tax funds for the maintenance of a few big bridges.

LET CALIFORNIA KEEP FAITH.

OLD VINTAGE WINES OF THE COUNTRY

CLUB ATTENDS LIVELY PROGRAM

* * * *

CENTFRVILLE—Isadore Franck, 90-year old violinist of the Masonic Home, entertained members of the Country Club of Washington Township at their recent meeting. Mr. Franck was formerly leader of the San Francisco Opera orchesta, played fo the old Vienna and at the McGuire Opera House. He came to San Francisco in 1968 and to the Masonic Home in Decoto in 1916. He was accompanied on the club program by Mrs. Dwight Thornburg of Irvington. The other guest artist was Mrs. Virginia Lord, head nurse at the Masonic Home, who gave several vocal solos.

The speaker of the day was Dr. Alfred Bernstein, who gave an illustrated lecture on "First Aid in the Home".

Mrs. C. E. Martenstein, president, had charge of the meeting. Hostesses were Mrs. Charles Myrick, Mrs. John Galvin, Mrs. E E. Dias and Mrs. Harvey Braun. The musicians were introduced by Mrs. Walter Robie of Alvarado.

Upon motion of Mrs. Roland Bendel, seconded by Mrs. Frank Dusterberry, the club instructed the secretary to wite to representatives of both houses of the legislature asking that action on the bill proposing four regional colleges for California be postponed until the legislative committee on investigation had reported. It is claimed that the bill is objectionable in that the colleges are unnecessary, expensive and would be detrimental to present colleges already established.

Mrs. J. E. Nihil and Mrs C. H Franklin of Niles were elected to membership in the club.

Mrs. Martenstein announced that the Men's Club of Washington Township would be served with a dinner by the club at the club house on April 29.

Delegates to the district convention were elected; Mrs. T. N. Alexander, Mrs. E. A. Ellsworth and Mrs. R. L. Pond, with Mrs. August May, Mrs. Martenstein and Mrs. Dusterberry as alternates.

Miss Elizabeth Dusterberry and Mrs. Robert Anderson were appointed as an auditing committee. The following were appointed as a nominating committee: Mrs. August May, Mrs. A. J. Rathbone, and Mrs. Howard Chadbourne. One new director is to be elected to fill the vacancy caused by the expiration of the term of Mrs. G. Williamson, Mrs. J. V Goold, filling the unexpired term of Mrs. John Lowman as treasurer will be re-elected to that position. It is customary for other officers to serve a second year.

Report of the nominating committee and election will take place at the May meeting at which time annual reports of officers and standing committees will be given.

The club voted to pay $25 toward the expenses of the president in attending the district and State conventions. The State meeting will be at Coronado on May 12, 13 and 14.

The meeting opened with the salute to the flag and a poem read by Mrs. August May. Mrs. Harvey Braun, chairman of the ways and means committee reported a total of $82.96 cleared at the recent Mardi Gras ball.

Mrs. Martenstein announced purchase of new silverware for the club house. Mrs. Alexander reported on the recent county federation meeting at which 17 from the local club were present.

TWO CHOSEN AT CLUB MEET

Two Washington Township club women were elected to office in the District Federation of Women's Clubs at a meeting in Berkeley this week. Mrs. Frank T. Dusterberry, of Centerville, past president of the Country Club of Washington Township and retiring president of the county federation was made second vice-president and Mrs. Roland Bendel of Niles, parliamentarian of the county federation, was named one of the auditors.

A large delegation from this section has been attending the three day district meeting.

Other district officers were elected as follows: Mrs. J. E. Taylor, Oakley, president; Mrs. R. J. Custer, Lodi, first vice-president; Mrs. James Burgess, Tuolumne, third vice-president; Mrs. Harry Leonard, Concord, treasurer; and Mrs. Wallace Meracle, Alameda, auditor.

The district federation is made up of clubs of Alameda, Contra Costa, San Joaquin, Calaveras and Tuolumne counties.

EASY GOING MERRIAM

The longer Gov. Merriam waits about making the supervisorial appointment, the more enemies he's going to make.

The longer the position remains unfilled, the more people are going to seek it and be angered when they do not get it.

Merriam probably plans to avoid any break with the Knowlands, powerful in the legislature, until the session is past.

Ater that, he will listen to Kelly, unless of course, he is spineless enough to try to avoid trouble with either Kelly or Warren factions by a compromise appointment.

In the interim, Washington, Pleasanton and Murray townships are being allowed to suffer through lack of representation.

WRONG PEOPLE RIGHT

The move to protect the supreme court against the president will fail because the arguments against the president and those who are opposing him are not the type to appeal to the rank and file of the electorate.

If John Lewis or William Green, or Harry Bridges or any other national figure of that stamp were to fight for the court, there would be a vaster feeling against the move to pack it.

As the fight now stands, those who lead the opposition are conservatives. It makes no difference that they have the right on their side. The poor people discount everything they say because they are who they are.

The average man cares little for liberty. Personal independence is worth less to him than security in the immediate future.

The average man will sell his soul for plenty of leisure, plenty to eat and a new car every year.

Mussolini and Hitler have known this for a long time and have traded on it.

Roosevelt, the world's greatest smoothie, knows it too.

PLOWIN' TIME IN NILES CANYON

I see across a sunny field today—
A ploy man trudging slowly down the way;
A patient team a-breakin' up the clod—
And plowshares turning over rich, brown sod.

A freckled school-boy searches 'round, to seek
For wriggly worms, all fat, and pink and sleek;
He gathers in a can a sickly mass—
To lure the cat-fish, or a striped bass.

The little girls are seeding garden plots,
With pennies gleaned these small, ambitious tots—
Will earn their picture shows, and sundry hours,
From future sales of vegetables and flowers.

Next door, my neighbor goes her busy way,
And there, a slender maiden bright and gay—
Tries out her art with fancy things to cook,
And sings the while she thumbs a "cookery" book.

If restless, prisoned shapes, (tho' Serfs or Kings)
Could know the joys and worth of simple things—
A brighter light in weary hearts would burn,
With just a little plot of earth to turn!

For thepungent smell of fresh-turned soil is sweet,
And the thudding sound of plodding horses feet;
There's satisfaction in a happy, toil-built home,
Surrounded by substantial—furrowed loam!

Mr. Henry Alderman
Editor Township Register
Niles, Calif.

Dear Mr. Editor Man:

It has been quite a spell since I struck off one of my little pieces, and so I writ off something t'other day and thinks I to myself, Now that's not real poetry I know, but if folks get a speck of enjoyment outen my kind o' writin'—Wall, then I'm a-going to give it to 'em.

'Course I realize real poets are as scarce as hen's teeth (and I don't believe in bragging) but there's shore a heap o' satisfaction in gettin' thoughts off your chest, and a heap sight more when you can sort o' josh folks along a mite— sort o' helps 'em ferget taxes, and insurance and the like, and lets 'em rest their minds sort of—peaceful like.

Now Mr. Editor Man, I like your style o' writing, real smart, watch them Editorials o' yourn, as lots o' folks don't hanker to see a man jumped on when he's almost downed by putting in good licks, fighting fer us all. So you jest lay off our President fer a spell, and jest watch what happens.

I'll bet ye my best cow, Samantha, that we'll all be eatin'—yes, and a-gruntin' jest the same 50 years from now (if we be alive by then) no matter who, and what the President is along in 1987—or thereabouts.

I like the little verses you print in yore paper, and save all of 'em in my old scrap-book. Now my kind, jest the simple, homey sort may not be to yore likin'—thinking as how you be a real professional writer, and writin' people may be a mite more high-brow in their taste fer rhyme. But so long as you are willin' to give me a little space to set up my jingles—Wall, I'll jest keep on writin' 'em.

Some folks call 'em jest—"Barn Yard" philosophy which suits me fine, so long as they like 'em, I don't care what they call 'em.

So until we meet, anon—I am,
Your Humble Servant

OH NO THEY'RE NOT

by G. P. Viery

(An interview with Mrs. Sladek

Positively no! Men are not as vain as women.

Mrs. Franklin found three men who glanced in a mirror. But how many women have I found who stopped to primp in the big front window? Every one who comes into the store. No, I'll take that back. Every young one. And they don't stop at jerking a tie or pulling at a handkerchief, either. Most of them powder and practically all of them apply lipstick.

And it's a fact that I've never seen a man stop there to look at himself.

Mrs. Franklin knows a man who is always bragging about his yacht, loves to show people over it and point out this and that. Well, a man's hobbies are the only thing he is vain about,—his guns, his boats, things like that. But I won't admit that even this is due to vanity. It's simply that these are his chief interests and he takes pride in them for that reason.

Are men as vain about their clothes? Listen, husbands. Who is it that takes longer to dress? When you're going out somewhere together, are you always the one who keeps your wife waiting? Or is it the other way around?

I also disagree that women are at ease in just any old thiny but that men have to be dressed for the occasion. Men are the ones who insist on taking off their coats, loosening their collars, removing their ties. They just will be comfortable and it's the wives who are "embarrassed for them".

Now, just ask yourself this question. If a husband and wife go to an evening affair and find that they're the only ones not in formal dress, which is the more ill at ease? Not the husband. He just pities the poor guys all tricked out in "soup and fish". The wife wants to go right home and if she stays, won't take her coat off.

Yes, there's one time when it is the man who feels most out of place. And that is when he is the only one in a tux and all the others are in business suits. Then he feels plenty awful. But not because he is vain. No. He's mad because his wife made him get all dolled up for nothing, when he didn't want to, anyhow.

And about this beauty parlor-barber shop business. Take an averape woman and an average man. Both have been hard up. They each win $5 in a contest. What will the woman do with hers? Ten to one that at least half of it will end up in a beauty parlor and the rest in a hat shop. But what will the man do with his? Either get a pipe or a fishing rod. It will go for his his comfort or for his hobbies, not a nickel to improve his looks.

Yes, I know. It used to be that a man was always given the works in a barber shop. Barbers turned on their high pressure salesmanship and wished a lot of things off on us that we didn't want. But not any more. Probably because money is tighter now. But if a fellow goes in for a hair cut and decides to get a shampoo he has to ask for it. And he usually doesn't.

So,—any way you look at it, women are still the vain sex. But what of it? We like them like that.

FORMER MISSION RESIDENT DIES

IRVINGTON—Michael M. O'Connor, former resident of Mission San Jose, passed away in St. Mary's hospital in San Francisco last week. Mr. O'Connor was the husband of Mrs. Agnes Byrne O'Connor, who is a cousin of Thomas Byrne of Irvington.

By way of coincidence, he was the same age as his uncle, Thomas O'Connor, in whose plot he was buried. He was buried the day after Adolph Lebrecht, who together with S. Ehrman, had a store in the Mission where Mr. O'Connor worked upon his arrival from Ireland in 1866.

Berge mortuary of Irvington had charge of the services in the cemetery Saturday.

less energy and great usefulness of such a man sets wave in motion in a great commonwealth like California;—waves which reach its fartherest corner and improve the lives of thousands of its citizens.

His name will be forever associated with the founding and developing of great specialized fruit industries in a state outstandingly given over to fruit. In Fresno, the metropolis of California's greatest valley, the citidens will remember through the centuries the man whose generosity and vision gave them the extensive, shady, oasis-like Roeding Park.

Mein Kampf

We note in reading the Register that some subscriber wishes our biography. Good—we shall oblige.

Once, a long time ago, as all good stories begin, on a certain September 8th, in a farm house near the old town of San Juan, I first saw the light of day. The family at that time owned a fine, large and gentle Newfoundland dog which was the pet of all my brothers and sisters, of whom there were six. Amidst the excitement attendant on my arrival, the dog was neglected, and becoming discouraged, left home and was never seen again. During the following years this story was frequently told in my presence, that I might draw the obvious conclusions from it. As a result, I distinctly remember rising on my elbow in my cradle ,that first day, and watching the old dog walk slowly and mournfully down a path between a row of big trees that led to the county road.

At the age of two, I made my first trip to San Jose; purpose, to have a photograph taken for the family album. The subscriber who does not know me personally, may miss the humor in this situation. The picture was taken in the Porter building on Santa Clara street where a photographer still holds forth. I might modestly mention in passing that I won first place in a baby show, a social feature of that day. I have often wondered what the other babies must have looked like!

Masonic Home News

by
JAMES H. HEATH

MASONIC HOME, April 12. Bound by kinship as well as by masonic ties recent arrivals at the Decoto home are a brother and sister, sponsored by two masonic lodges of one community. Their coming constitutes an event of more than passing interest and they are received with unusual honors.

The brother is W. J. Huff, a member of San Jose lodge No. 10, San Jose, and the sister is Mrs. Mary Long, whose huband, was the late Peter Long ,for many years an active member of Friendship lodge, No. 210, San Jose. Bro. Huff's age is listed as 73 and Mrs. Long s as 81 Some of their new member friends of the home say that both look younger.

A native of Chio Bro. Huff, son of A. J. Huff, came to California with his parents in 1873, settling in San Jose, and is proud to say that San Jose ha been his home town for the past 64 years. He received his masonic degrees in San Jose lodge in 1893. He has been an active member in the lodge but has never held office. At the home he is pleasantly located in the Men s Dormitory. Mrs. Long is also happily located in one of the wings of the main building. His profession, that of a painter, Bro. Huff's chief ailment is lead poisoning. But he just can't quit wielding the brush and is pleased with Supt. Hartman's assignment to join George D. Morrison, Golden State lodge, 358, home painter, in the job of keeping the home furniture and fixtures bright. Here only a few days he's already at it Incidentally cribbage is his favorite game. And he's anxious to get in touch with others of the same leaning.
